MANY OUT TO SEE THE CIRCUS

Big Tent Well Filled Twice Yesterday.

Ringling Bros. Shows the Star Attraction in County—Parade the Finest Ever Seen in City—The Baby Elephant on Exhibition—Fine Menagerie—The Performance of High Class, While the Clowns Were Far Beyond the Average.

When the entrance to Ringling Bros. show was thrown open yesterday afternoon thousands of people stood surging without and from the push and jam one would have thought that never before had Greensboro been visited by a circus. It took nearly two hours for the thousands of spectators to crowd into the tent and secure a seat and when the people stopped coming it was evident that there was no room left. Every available seat was occupied. And last night there was an unusually large crowd out to see the performance. It was the star attraction in the county. The management certainly has no reason to complain of the patronage given the show here.

For weeks and months people have talked of this show and during that time many have been saving and planning for the great occasion. And that they enjoyed it goes without saying. The weather was ideal for such an occasion, the only disagreeable thing being the dust in the street near the show grounds and the mud. Just off the street inside the tent it was so muddy that a blanket of straw had to be placed on the ground. This sudden change in the condition of the earth in a few feet was amazing to many not acquainted with the ground at that place. However, the mud was not impassable, the show patrons being protected by the straw and the only thing that was spoiled was the racing. This was next to impossible and one or two numbers were called off.

The menagerie was all that the management had claimed for it. In the opinion of all who inspected the animals it was the finest collection ever seen in Greensboro. There were no less than twenty-one elephants with the six weeks old baby elephant thrown in for good measure. The latter was in a cage and viewed with admiration by everyone who passed the cage. All the animals were in fine condition and showed that they received careful treatment.

The performance yesterday afternoon began at 2:30 o'clock, every available seat on two stages and in three rings. The performance of the horses was better than ever seen here, as was the riding of some of the performers. The acrobatic and other muscular stunts were equally as good, while the trapeze work brought forth liberal applause. The acrobats were there as was the man who walked on his head to the astonishment of the thousands of spectators who fully believed such a feat possible. The walking was up to the standard, no new features were introduced. Juggling acts were especially fine. There were the clowns. Fifty or more strong they invaded the tent and the crowd half convulsed with laughter during the entire performance. They kept the attention of so many people centered on themselves that they caused them to miss seeing other acts. It is not to be doubted that the organization with Ringling Bros. is composed of the best funmakers Greensboro ever seen.

Some of the performers more liberal-plauded were: The Flying Wards, who were suspended by their teeth; a Daise Hodgini and her trained dog; the performing Schu horses; the Manello-Marinitz acrobats; Alexander Patty, who walked on his head; Madam Cottrell, equestrienne; the Arthur and Trio, the strong men who threw round weights around like they were bells; Samek and Dimitro, who meter horses from the circus Schu; the Flying Nelsons and the Alex

Troupe, high performers, who startled the audience by their trapeze work. There were many other performers that received well merited applause, but the above were generally conceded to be the star attractions, not including, of course, the bevy of clowns. Taken all in all the show was as good as one could wish for and everything was clean and refined, the vulgarity usually resorted to by the clowns being conspicuous by its absence.

Long before the performance last night was over the larger part of the animals had been loaded on the train and before the spectators were snugly tucked in bed the tented city was a thing of the past and huge engines were pulling the cars bearing Ringling Bros. circus to Gastonia where the show will be given today.

The Parade. The parade yesterday morning was by far the best ever seen in Greensboro. There were four or five bands and at different times martial music floated out on the morning air. There were numerous cages of wild beasts with the animals pacing to and fro as the wagons rattled along. The procession reached from the railroad to the end of Davis up Church and down Elm to the depot. It required fully half an hour for the parade to pass a given point. Thousands of people lined the streets, filled the sidewalks and took possession of the front doors of the merchants. Indeed many went to the second story for a better view than could be obtained from the ground. It was a grand sight and everyone felt fully repaid for any trouble they might have experienced in seeing it.

FOOTBALL THURSDAY.

Local Highs To Meet Local Stars, An Aggregation of Unknown Possibilities.

Thursday afternoon on the gridiron at Cone Park the football eleven of the Greensboro High School will meet an aggregation known at present as the Local Stars. The possibilities of this bunch of players are unknown at present and until The Telegram's football sport writer can get a line on the players that will compose the team it will be impossible to say with any degree of certainty which is the stronger. However, it is almost certain that the local Highs would not have challenged their opponents unless they felt confident of putting up a little the best game and on the other hand they would not have agreed to play unless they thought the teams about evenly matched. So it is safe to state that the contest will be a hard fought one.

The line up for the High School will be about the same as on Saturday, while the Local Stars will select their eleven from among the following: Messrs. Bill Preyer, Allan Preyer, Martin Douglas, Chas. Benbow, Lowry Stafford, Bert Eldridge, Richard Harry, Tub Stockard, Sam Bradshaw, Jr., Cliff Frazier, Chas. A. Hines, Pot Coffin, Chas. Denny, Ed. Clapp and Bailey Groomer.

COURT THIS WEEK

Regular October Term For Trial of Civil Cases Will Convene This Morning.

The regular October term of Guilford Superior court for the trial of civil cases will convene this morning, Judge C. C. Lyon, of Elizabeth City, presiding. Court was to have convened yesterday, but Judge Lyon was unable to reach the city. There are seventy-nine cases on the calendar and there is little probability that all will be disposed of.

Prominent among the cases set for yesterday were those of ex-Judge S. B. Adams vs. Marion Butler, et al, and S. B. Adams vs. the Caucasian Publishing Company, these being suits for damages alleged due the plaintiff on account of the publication of libellous articles in the Butler paper. As is known these cases have all been settled with the exception of the signature of Judge Lyon and this will no doubt be affixed at this term of court and the cases gotten out of the way.

The Committee Appointed.

Mayor Stafford yesterday appointed the following citizens as members of the committee to assist in welcoming Booker T. Washington to this city on next Sunday and Monday, according to resolutions passed by the Board of Aldermen at the last meeting: Judge Jas. E. Boyd, Judge N. L. Eure, ex-Judges W. P. Bynum, Jr., T. J. Shaw, S. B. Adams, R. M. Douglas, Dr. J. I. Foust, Messrs. E. J. Justice and G. Sam Bradshaw.

DR. BOOKER WASHINGTON

Great Negro Educator Ever Brings Message of Hope and Inspiration To Hearers.

Prepared For The Telegram.

The citizens of North Carolina, irrespective of race, are much interested in the proposed tour of Dr. Booker T. Washington and a party of distinguished men through the State. Tours have been made by him in Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Tennessee and have been productive of great good to both races. In some sections they have given birth to a new era in co-operative relation between the races. Dr. Washington ever bears a message of hope and inspiration to his hearers. He is the champion of industrial education and material progress. His great usefulness to the whole country is established beyond any doubt. Pleading for harmony, mutual respect and justice, his words have assuaged racial bitterness and promoted and encouraged that relationship between the races which is most to be desired. His speeches are full of wit and wisdom.

Dr. Washington comes to Greensboro under the auspices of the local Business Men's League and will be entertained by it and the citizens of the city. He has just returned from Europe where he went to study "The man farthest down" and he has doubtless added much to his knowledge of people and classes who struggle under adverse conditions.

Under Dr. Washington's administration Tuskegee Institute, founded by him, has become the greatest institution of its kind in the world. The plant has a value of more than a million of dollars. Happily through Dr. Washington an endowment fund of about two million dollars has been secured for the institution, thus making certain its perpetuation. The Business Men's League of this city has secured the Auditorium for the speaking and such arrangements have been perfected as will make possible a clear hearing to everyone. Tickets are now for sale in various business houses of the city.

Mr. Klutz is regarded as one of the strongest of the younger campaigners in the state and it will be a treat to hear him. Some days ago he spoke in Durham and the people of that city were carried away with his sound and convincing logic. A cordial invitation is extended the public to hear Mr. Klutz, especially the young men of the city and vicinity.

Following the address a Democratic club will be organized.

CIVIL COURT IN WAKE COUNTY

Three-Week Term Begun Yesterday.

One Hundred and Six Cases on the Docket—Corps. and National Colors For Coast Artillery—Classification of Freights For Interstate Business Requires That Stoves Shall Be Crated For Shipment—Col. Andrews To Give Reception For Vice President.

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—A three-weeks term of Wake Superior court convened here today with Judge Cooke presiding, one hundred and six cases being set for trial. The first case put on trial was one against the city of Raleigh the title being Pink Phillips vs. City of Raleigh, involving a demand of $5,000 damages for injuries sustained by an aged negro woman from falling into a street drain that is alleged to have been negligently left open. The case was not completed when the court took recess for the afternoon.

A revised Southern classification of freights effective for interstate business October 1 requires that all cast iron stoves shall be crated for shipment, and a petition to the North Carolina corporation commission for that body to make the same regulation applicable to shipments of stoves in interstate shipments was to be heard Tuesday of this week, but at the request of the railroad authorities the hearing is postponed to November 22. The Southern classification is made by the associated railroads shipping into the South. The change is quite an important one for hardware dealers in this state. And the change cannot be made as to interstate shipments without the approval of the corporation commission.

United States Marshal Cladius Dockery and other court officers left today for New Bern to attend a session of the Federal court there this week presided over by Judge Connor.

There has been received at State Guard headquarters here very handsome corps and national colors for the North Carolina Coast Artillery. They are silk, handsomely embroidered and are to be shipped to Salisbury where Commander Max L. Parker maintains headquarters for the North Carolina Coast Artillery corps.

United States Vice President Sherman is to deliver a political speech here Wednesday night under the auspices of the State Republican executive committee and Col. A. B. Andrews, vice president of the Southern Railway Co., has issued invitations for a dinner in his honor at his Blount street home that evening at 6 o'clock. He arrives here at 4 o'clock from Gladsboro where he speaks that morning. There is to be a public reception for the Vice President at the Yarrowhouse early in the afternoon, the speech to take place at the Academy of Music at 8 p. m.

Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture has been moderator for the South Fork Missionary Baptist Association for the past thirty two years and he left today for Mt. Zion church in Lenoir county to attend the annual session of the association over which he will preside this week. The Association consists of 55 churches and over 6,000 communicants in Lincoln, Gaston and Catawba counties.

Charters were issued today for the McArthur Investment Co., Fayetteville, capital $200,000 authorized and $40,000 subscribed by Mrs. C. M. McArthur and others, and for the Carver Teague Live Stock Co., Roxboro, capital $25,000 by J. H. Carver and other. There is an amendment to the charter of the Harry-Belk Bros. Co., Greensboro, changing the name to the Brown-Belk Bros. Co., and the principal office from Greensboro to Charlotte, the operation of department stores anywhere in the state being the business. The capital is increased from $25,000 to $50,000 W. H. Belk being president and T. W. Brown secretary.

Have you moved into a different precinct since the last State election? If so, you will have to register or lose your vote. Get busy.

Young men interested in political matters should not fail to hear Whitehead Klutz at the court house tonight. He will discuss the issues in an able and effective way. Ladies and young men particularly invited.

VIRGINIANS ARE MARRIED HERE

Mr. Hailey, of Jetersville, and Miss Owen, of Wylliesville, Wedded Last Night by Rev. H. M. Blair At His Residence on Percy Street.

Mr. C. H. Hailey, of Jetersville, Va., and Miss Carrie Owen, of Wylliesville, Va., were married last night at 9 o'clock by Rev. H. M. Blair at the Blair home on Percy street.

Mr. Hailey was attended by Mr. R. P. Barnes as best man, while Miss Carrie Owen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The party stopped at the McAdoo hotel and will leave returning to Virginia on No. 44 this morning, the married couple going to Henry county to visit the groom's relatives before going on to their home at Jetersville.

It is believed that the marriage was a runaway affair, but the groom, when interrogated on this point, merely smiled and declined to give any information.

STEEL GATES FOR CANAL

46 Sets of Them, 60,000 Tons, to Cost $5,500,000.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—With the installation of $100,000 worth of new machinery, much of which is of special design, the McClintic Marshall Construction Company, of Pittsburg, announces that it is about ready to start work on the biggest steel contract in the world's history—that of making gates, etc., for the Panama canal. Within this week the first steel fabricating on this contract of about 60,000 tons to cost about $5,500,000 will be started. Within three weeks the first shipment will be on board a vessel at Baltimore, and it is announced to the Pittsburg firm that early in January they will begin the erection of the steel work in the canal, taking about 200 experts from Pittsburg to work on this contract, which will require nearly three years to complete. June, 1913, being the time set for completion.

For the first time the details of the massive steel gates, which will be made at Pittsburg to hold back the water from one ocean to the other, were given out today. Not within the history of steel has anything so massive been attempted. H. H. McClintic, vice president of the concern which is making the steelwork of the canal, and who will give the matter his personal supervision, said:

"There will be 46 locks or sets of gates in the entire canal requiring between 55,000 and 60,000 tons of structural steel work. Each lock will consist of two gates, or leaves hung from the sides of the canal and meeting snugly in the center of the canal when closed. Each leaf will weigh about 700 tons and will be 65 feet wide by 77 feet high and 7 feet thick. They will, of course, not be solid, but will be diaphragm work and will have air chambers to assist in lightening the leaf. There will be 92 of these leaves, each to be composed of 18 plates or girders, with diaphragm work, all to be covered with steel sheathing 7-16 inches thick, with the top gradually thickening until it reaches 13-16 inches at the bottom."

Residence Entered.

While Mr. E. E. Bain and family were attending the circus yesterday the family residence, Arlington street, was entered and a number of articles taken. The thief seemed especially after money or jewelry for after taking $5 or $6 in money, a gold watch, brooch, necklace and several scarf pins that were lying handy he departed. The police are working on the case, but there is no clew.

Charged With Larceny.

A white man named Frank Pope was arrested last night on the charge of the larceny of $4.90. He will be given a hearing before Judge Eure on this charge this morning. It seems that he went into a pool room and the clerk in making change for another person handed the above amount to Pope, who immediately left the place. When caught later Pope denied taking the money.

Reitzel-Patterson.

Yesterday at noon in the Guilford hotel Rev. Thos. G. Faulkner officiated at the marriage of Mr. John G. Reitzel and Miss Sallie S. Patterson, both of Liberty. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reitzel took in the show before returning to their home in Liberty.

Young men interested in political matters should not fail to hear Whitehead Klutz at the court house tonight. He will discuss the issues in an able and effective way. Ladies and young men particularly invited.

ANNIVERSARY OF Y. W. C. A.

Three Interesting Services Sunday.

Ending of First Year After Reorganization of Association Fittingly Observed.

—Miss Casler, General Secretary, Made Able Address at Each Service—Reports of Year's Work by Mrs. Dorian Blair and Miss Cain.

The first anniversary of the reorganization of the local Young Women's Christian Association was fittingly observed on Sunday when three interesting services were held in different parts of the city. The congregations of all the churches in the city attended the services and heard with much interest the speaker of the occasion, Miss Anna D. Casler, general secretary for Virginia and the Carolinas. Special music had been prepared for each of the services and this added to the interest in the service.

The first meeting was held in Westminster Presbyterian church at three o'clock, Rev. C. E. Hodgins, pastor, presiding. All the churches in the Southern part of the city were represented at this service. Immediately following a second service was held at Spring Garden Street Methodist church. Mr. E. P. Wharton presided, Rev. J. W. Long, the pastor, being absent. All the churches in the Western section of the city were represented. At 8 o'clock in West Market Street Methodist church a union service of the churches of the central part of the city was held, Rev. Melton Clark presiding.

At each of the meetings reports of the work done during the past year were read by Mrs. Dorian Blair, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. directors, and by Miss Florence Cain, general secretary. These were heard with a good deal of interest as many had no idea that so much had been accomplished. The reports were similar to those published in The Telegram a few weeks past.

The address of Miss Casler was heard with much interest. She is a young woman full of information and inspiration and her hearers were stirred by her message. She spoke of the work of the World's organization and dwelt especially upon the National organization. This, she said, is studying through the 60 expert and trained secretaries it employs the condition and needs of every class of women throughout the entire country. And the local associations are being adapted to fill the needs of the women within the territory worked by each association. The Y. W. C. A. as a factor in civic life was portrayed by the speaker, Miss Casler pointing out the many ways in which an active association can render material aid in developing and maintaining a cleaner as well as a better city.

In concluding Miss Casler spoke of the work in Greensboro. The organization was, she said, "coming into its own." A few years ago it occupied a corner, but the work was now progressing most satisfactorily and the organization was daily gaining strength. The young women of the city were united in working and co-operating in every possible way as they had found that this helpfulness was mutual. Bright indeed was her picture of the future association in this city and to many ears did this sound encouraging indeed. Miss Casler not only brought an inspiring message from other places, but she pointed out to the workers many things they should be proud of here at home.

It is believed that in no other way could interest have been stirred in the work so successfully and the directors of the association are counting them selves fortunate in securing Miss Casler to take a part in the anniversary services. Great good will no doubt result.

STRANGE CASE OF KEMBLE.

Deliverance to Former Shipmates from One Supposed to be Dead.

Gaillard Hunt, from the Manuscript of William Turk, surgeon in the Library of Congress, Reprinted in Parper's Weekly.

Kemble had awakened, as it were, from sleep, raised himself up, and called for his messmates in particular, and those men who were not on duty, to attend to his words. He told them he had experienced death, but was allowed a short space of time to return and give them, as well as the officers, some directions for their future conduct in life. In this situation I found him surrounded by the crew, all mute with astonishment and paying the most serious attention to every word that escaped from his lips. The oldest men were in tears, not a dry eye was to be seen or a whisper heard; all was as solemn and as silent as the grave. His whole body was as cold as death could make it; there was no pulsation in the wrists, the temples or the chest perceptible; his voice was clear and powerful; his eyes uncommonly brilliant and animated. After a short and pertinent address to the medical gentlemen he told me in a peremptory manner to bring Commodore Rodgers to him, as he had something to say to him before he finally left us. The Commodore consented to go with me, when a scene was presented, truly novel and indescribable and calculated to fill with awe the stoutest heart. The sick bay (or berth) in which he lay is entirely set apart to the use of those who are confined to their beds by illness. Supported by the surgeons, surrounded by his weeping and astonished comrades, a crowd of spectators looking through the lattice work which inclosed the room, a common japanned lamp throwing out a sickly light and a candle held opposite his face by an attendant was the situation of things when our worthy commander made his appearance, and well does he remember the effect produced by so uncommon a spectacle, especially when followed by the utterance of these words from the mouth of one long supposed to have been dead:

"Commodore Rodgers, I have sent for you, sir, being commissioned by a higher power to address you for a short time and to deliver the message entrusted to me, when I was permitted to revisit the earth. Once I trembled in your presence and was eager to obey your commands—but now I am your superior, being no longer an inhabitant of the earth. I have seen the glories of the world of spirits—I am not permitted to make known what I have beheld; indeed, were it not forbidden, language would be inadequate to the task; 'tis enough for you and the crew to know that I have been sent back to earth to reanimate for a few hours my lifeless body, commissioned by God to perform the work I am now engaged in."

THE PEPPERMATO.

A Queer New Vegetable By a Tennessee Farmer.

Humboldt Cor. Memphis News-Scimitar. Henry P. Cole, a prosperous farmer of this vicinity, promises to rival the great Burbank in marvelous feats of plant raising. His latest innovation is a combination tomato and pepper plant, which will enable the lover of the delicious fruit to abandon the antiquated method of using pepper, it being only necessary to slice the new product and it is ready for use.

The tomato patch from which the freak tomato was taken is in close proximity to a field of peppers, and it is supposed by the plant raisers of this section that the pollen of the two was mixed during the blooming season. The physical construction of the "peppermato," as it has been locally dubbed, is peculiarly interesting.

As if taking into consideration the tastes of every one, nature so arranged the fruit that the pepper part may be separated from the tomato and those who fear the ill effects of pepper upon human vitality may raise the fruit for market purposes and at the same time remove the pod from the few which they may personally consume.

The peppermato resembles the proverbial Siamese twins, being a perfect specimen of the tomato species, to which is grafted a full pod of pepper. It is thought that the new plant involves principles which will be of interest to scientists.

THE CROSSTIE INDUSTRY.

Some Amazing Figures Issued from the Census Bureau.

Louisville Courier-Journal. The steam and electric railroads of the United States expended more than $80,000,000 for crossties in 1909, according to a statement recently issued from the Census Bureau. The number of crossties of all kinds of wood reported as having been purchased in that year was 123,754,000.

The figures gathered for the years 1907-8-9 show that, while the number of ties purchased has varied largely, the average cost per tie has remained close to 50 cents. The renewed activity in railroad building is evidenced by the fact that in 1909 there were more than 16,000,000 ties purchased for new tracks, as against 7,000,000 in 1908. Of the material used, the report says:

The oaks continued in 1909 to lead by a wide margin all the other kinds of crosstie material. Moreover, in the general return of the industry toward the 1907 record, owing to renewed activity in railroad extension, the oaks have come back faster than any other species. Oak crossties reported was 61,757,000; in 1908 it was 48,111,000, and in 1909 it was 57,132,000. During those years the proportion of oak crossties in the total number purchased ranged from 40 to 46 per cent. Southern pines, which numbered more than half as many as the oaks in 1907, dropped to considerably less than half in 1908 and decreased a little further in 1909. The figures are 34,215,000 in 1907; 21,529,000 in 1908, and 21,384,000 in 1909. In each year the oaks and Southern pines together formed about two-thirds of the total number purchased.

The figures indicate that there is still a vast amount of oak timber in the country that is available for ties, and the increase in the use of other varieties of timber is not so marked as might have been expected. Gum and beech are the only woods in the list which show any remarkable increase in favor, and the extent to which they are used is still significant, as compared with some other woods. Next in demand after oak and Southern pine are the following varieties in the order named: Douglas fir, Western pine, cedar, chestnut, cypress, tamarack, hemlock, redwood, white pine, lodgepole pine, gum, spruce and beech.

The report is principally interesting in showing that the number of oak ties purchased is almost equal to the number of all other kinds combined. This has been the case always, and probably will continue as long as the oak is available. There is reason for believing that railroads, as well as other purchasers of timber, are not so discriminating at present as they have been in the past, and that ties are accepted which formerly would have been rejected. This is an inevitable result of the decreasing supply of first-class tie timber. It is an interesting question as to how long the oak tie will retain its supremacy. It also would be interesting to know to what extent wooden crossties are being supplanted by other materials.

HOW THE VAULT WAS ENTERED

By EDWIN R. STONE.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press
Association.

A policeman stepped into the office of Messrs Weller and Stone, importers, and asked to see a member of the firm. Having been shown into Mr. Weller's private room, he said:

"I have hit on some information to-day, sir, that is very important to your firm. It didn't come to me in the line of duty, sir, so I haven't turned it in. I just thought I'd come to you with it."

"Well, what is it? I won't buy a pig in a poke, but if your information turns out to be correct I'll pay you what it is worth."

"Your vault is to be entered tonight, sir."

"By burglars?"

"Well, sir, they be professional, but the story I got, sir, was that they was to be helped by some one in your employ."

"In that case we must not appear to expect anything, but be on the watch. How did you get this information?"

"One of 'em blowed on the rest."

"What time is the work to be done?"

"Along o' 1 o'clock, sir."

"All right. What's your name?"

"Tom Murphy, sir."

"Well, Murphy, come in tomorrow and if our safe has been robbed I'll give you a good tip."

"You mean if it hasn't been robbed?"

"Yes."

"Would you mind lettin' me look over the ground, sir?"

"No."

He tapped a bell, and a clerk appeared.

"Jenkins," said Mr. Weller, "let this policeman see the vault and its surroundings."

The clerk led Mr. Murphy to the vault, and while the cop was examining the approaches, looking up at the ceiling to see how a burglar could come down, and down at the floor to see how a burglar could come up, he busied himself shutting up, for it was after 5 o'clock in the evening, and the employees were going home.

When Mr. Jenkins was ready to go away himself he looked about for the policeman. Murphy was nowhere to be seen, but the clerk noticed that the vault door, which he thought was shut, was standing ajar. He pushed it in until it clicked and then continued his search for Murphy. Not finding him, Jenkins concluded that he had gone down in the cellar to investigate whether the vault could be approached from that direction. It was rather dark, and Jenkins called. No answer. Returning, he looked over the office in all its departments, but as there were no signs of Murphy he concluded that he had finished his examination and gone away.

About 12 o'clock Mr. Weller met several of the employees at the office and after telling them that he expected the vault to be entered placed them in positions where they could watch without being seen. Then the lights were put out, and the watch began.

Mr. Weller had a sofa in his private room. On this he laid himself to wait. He fell asleep. When he awoke it was broad day. If the vault had been entered during the night he had not been awake to see. Fearful of having been robbed without knowing it, he went out to observe the condition of his watchers. He found every man sound asleep, and one of them was snoring loud enough to waken the dead. Mr. Weller glanced toward the vault. There was no evidence that the door had been drilled or opened. He awakened the sleepers, and each man as he rubbed his eyes looked heartily ashamed of himself.

"You're a pretty lot," said Mr. Weller angrily. "I was informed that the burglars were to be assisted by one of our office force. It looks very much as though they had been assisted by every one of you. There's no easier way to assist a burglar than to go to sleep when he's burgling. The door hasn't been drilled or blown open, and there isn't any necessity for opening it that way when the man who wishes to get in knows the combination."

While Mr. Weller was thus delivering himself he was shaking up his watchers. When they were all thoroughly awake he went up to the safe, examined it critically, then, applying the combination, turned the knob and pulled open the door.

There was surprise on the face of Mr. Weller and on the faces of all his watchers. A scattered brazen glitter was first visible, filling the interior of the vault; then it developed into a uniform policeman. But surprise was converted into amazement when the figure of Thomas Murphy, policeman, stepped from the inclosure. He was pale from an all night confinement without sufficient air and had a shamefaced expression on his face. It was plain to all that he had been locked in the vault. He tried to explain how it happened, but his looks belied his story.

"Our vault has been entered, as you predicted," said Mr. Weller, "and you have earned your reward. But since you are the man who entered it I shall investigate you."

He stepped to the telephone and called for the police. When an officer appeared and saw Mr. Murphy he opened his eyes.

"Well, if there ain't 'Slippery Jim' in uniform!"

"Slippery Jim" had played a shrewd game and if Jenkins hadn't noticed the vault door standing ajar might have succeeded.

If you don't want to have malaria don't let the mosquitoes bite you. (Mosquito time is almost over, but you can save this advice away till next mosquito season.) The State Board of Health is issuing a series of circulars on malaria and the one for this week clearly convicts the mosquito of being guilty of "letting" malaria. Malarial fever is seldom fatal, but it is immensely effective in keeping people unfit for work. Experiment after experiment has been tried to test the truth of the assertion that the mosquito carries malaria and not a single one has failed to connect the two. In fact, it is as certain that mosquitoes carry malaria as it is that two and two make four. So it is up to the well ordered family to swat the mosquito as well as the housefly.

Ex-Senator Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, has come back long enough to give the "new nationalism" a rap and a pretty heavy rap it was, too. Speaking Saturday at Marshallville, Ill., he declared that the "new nationalism" is nothing in the world but "imperialism." Continuing he said "the power it would give to the President of the United States would be far more autocratic and dangerous to the liberties of the people than are those of any monarchy in Europe." That such a plan of government should be advocated shows that there is in this country a trend away from the old landmarks of government. Another circumstance which goes to prove the same thing is the failure of this country promptly to recognize the Republic of Portugal. Although this is a republic and but lately rid of the yoke of tyranny we seem to have no sympathy for the newest republic. We suspect that the "new nationalism," which is but another word for "imperialism," has something to do with this country's reluctance to recognize the new order of things in Portugal.

The three mass meetings Sunday in behalf of the Young Women's Christian Association should serve to stimulate interest in the organization greatly. The reports of Mrs. Blair and Miss Cain showed that the association has been doing real work for the uplift of young women. The association is worthy of a generous support on the part of the public and we earnestly hope it will get it. Miss Caslers address, we should add, was most informing to the general public as it must have been inspiring and richly suggestive to those who have immediate control of the local Young Women's Christian Association.

In the Asheville Gazette-News of Saturday, Col. V. S. Lusk, of Asheville, writes a scathing denunciation of the local self-government plank in the Republican platform. He says the adoption of an ambiguous plank such as that was, is "political juggling." To quote him: I want to say to the Republicans of North Carolina, no matter what your sentiment may be on the question of prohibition, you cannot lend your aid and influence in support of any such political juggling with our sacred political principles. We have always been honorable and honest in our political dealings with each other. We sometimes have differences in our views on questions of policy, but this is the first time in the history of the party that we have been called upon to support a measure so brazenly conceived in fraud and born of iniquity. You owe it to your individual honor, to the honor of our party, to your self-respect and manhood to rebuke this attempt to dishonor the party by ways that are dark and tricks that are vain. You may be in favor of local option, but you don't want it through dishonest methods. You don't want it to come clothed in the garb of fraud and falsehood. No party has ever succeeded that took the wrong side of a great moral question. To yourselves be true and to others you cannot be false.

 This is nothing, if not an appeal to Republicans not to support the Republican ticket. And it is not to be doubted that many will heed the call. The Gazette-News writes approvingly of Col. Lusk's letter and says that "no party can succeed that openly resorts to fraud and chicane, and no one can doubt, with the proceedings of the Greensboro convention and subsequent events in mind, that the Republican party, as organized at Greensboro, has in this respect fatally offended the voters of the State."

TRUE TO THEIR NAMES
 A New Jersey man named his twin sons Roosevelt and Taft. A friend asked him recently how they were getting along. "Famously," was the answer. "Taft digs steadily into his breakfast bowl, while Roosevelt yells and pounds him over the head with a spoon."—November Lippincott's.

CLAY KIRKMAN AT CIRCUS.
 Walked To Town and Spent Day Here—Had Pocket Picked But Saw Circus. Clay Kirkman, the small son of Mr. Kirkman, who lives about four and a half miles southeast of the city, was here to see the circus yesterday, which fact in itself is of no more consequence than the fact that thousands of small boys from all parts of this and adjoining counties were here for the same purpose. However, in Clay's case he will have a few reminiscences that no other boy possibly will have.

Clay, who is only about 10 years of age, knows the city like a book and as he wanted to see everything that was to be seen his parents agreed for him to come earlier than they. So the sun had scarcely crept above the horizon before Clay was viewing the panorama of circus town. He watched the tents go up, looked after the arrangements of the seats, saw the elephants watered and fed and many other details too numerous to mention. Then with a grand air he stood on the sidewalk and watched the parade pass, inspecting all with a careful eye.

The next thing he wanted to do was to get inside the tent to see the many animals not yet uncovered, and the performance. But horror of horrors, when he looked for his carefully hoarded show money it was gone. A skilled pick-pocket had deftly relieved him if that which was necessary to get him inside the tent. Nothing dismayed he began a search—not for his money but for father. He found him and was soon inside the tent as happy as it is possible for a boy to be. Clay says that he had a fine time despite the fact that things looked so dark almost at the last moment. And he proposes to keep pick-pockets in his mind the next time he goes to a circus.

A Good Position
 Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Curious Baths in Penang.
 One of the many things that strike the tourist as curious at Penang is the type of baths with which the hotels are provided. Penang is in the Straits Settlements, a British crown colony in the Malay peninsula, deriving its name from the straits of Malacca, which form the great trade route between India and China. From each of the first class rooms opens a dark, cement paved, damp smelling little room which serves as the bath. In it is an immense jar of porous brown earthenware about five feet high, nearly three feet in diameter in the middle and but one and a half feet in diameter at the top. It stands huge and graceful of outline, but dark and uninviting, and is full to the brim with water, not, however, to get into. Near it are a supply of soft soap and a long handled quart dipper. The proper procedure is to soap the body well, then throw several dippers of water over it, repeating the process until satisfied. There is water enough to keep it up for an hour or so, and there is a huge crash towel as large as a sheet to wrap up in when the bath is over.—Detroit News-Tribune.

Gamecocks in Panama.
 The color line is not very distinctly drawn in the Latin republics. The San Blas Indians are found in and around Panama. Like the Seminoles of Florida, they never were conquered. A curious feature of native life in Panama is the cockfighting, which, like baseball in the United States, is more attractive to the public than any other form of recreation. Even the workmen on the streets have favorite birds tethered near by and seize every opportunity to test their prowess. The click-click of steel spurs as the birds strike each other, the spurting of blood and the clamor of men indulging in small wagers seem to supply the mental excitement that Spaniards find in bullfights and that English speaking races derive from less brutal contests. The backer of each gamecock stands behind it, and if his bird shows signs of exhaustion he takes it up and puts its bill into his mouth while he inflates its exhausted lungs. One gamecock in a fight witnessed by the writer, appearing almost dead, was thus revived, went back into the pit and finally killed its opponent.—National Magazine.

PICKPOCKETS DO A BIG BUSINESS

Numbers of People Were Relieved of Their Purses Yesterday—One Man Touched For $150.

Mr. Washington Lee, who lives in the Summerfield section, had his pocket picked while going into the circus yesterday. He had $9.00 in his purse and it was taken from his pocket in the crush as he was entering the big tent.

Another party, whose name was not learned, was relieved of $18.

Mr. Tilden Hedrick, of High Point, had $150 stolen from him on the train between here and High Point.

John A. Smith, of High Point, was touched for $40.

The crush was the greatest ever known here and no doubt there were many people robbed whose losses will never be made known.

Blooming the Second Time.

PROXIMITY AND WHITE OAK ARE ON FULL TIME AGAIN

Big Mills Are Now Running Six Instead of Four Days a Week.

Proximity and White Oak cotton mills are now running on full time. For a year or more they have been running only four days in the week. The full time schedule commenced with last week's work.

While these mills were running on two-thirds time some of the families which furnish operatives for the mills left for other mill communities, but their places were promptly taken by others, so that when time came to go back to the six-day schedule there was plenty of help and the mills are running along smoothly.

Although the management of the mills runs a very large store, the people out there do a considerable amount of trading in Greensboro and it is expected that business will be helped materially as a result of these great cotton mills starting up on full time again.

REV. J. C. TURNER RECEIVES CALL

Is Invited To Become Pastor of the First Baptist Church—If He Accepts, and It Is Believed That He Will, His Pastorate Will Begin December 1.

At a conference of the members of the First Baptist church held Sunday morning, Rev. J. Clyde Turner was unanimously called to the pastorate of the church.

In case Mr. Turner accepts the call, and it is believed that he will, it will become effective December 1 regularly and he will occupy the pulpit one or more Sundays in the meantime.

Rev. Mr. Turner is a graduate of Wake Forest College and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville. At both institutions he took high honors, in fact his record at both was unexcelled.

He is a native of Statesville but for several years has been pastor of a church at Macon, Ga., giving it up, however, several months ago on account of impaired health and going to Black Mountain. On going to this resort his health began to improve at once and he is now practically restored to his normal condition.

Mr. Turner's wife is a daughter of Col. W. J. Hicks, of Oxford. Like her husband she is already known to a considerable number of Greensboro people.

Rev. Mr. Turner preached here on a Sunday morning and night several months ago, giving very great pleasure to the large congregations which heard him. He is about 35 years of age, probably something less than that, but he has filled several important pastorates so that it is felt that he will prove thoroughly capable and successful in his new field.

SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA MEETS

The Ninety Seventh Annual Session Begins in Rocky Mount Tonight—Dr. J. M. Wells To Preach Opening Sermon—The Greensboro Representatives Who Will Attend the Sessions of the Body.

The Synod of North Carolina will convene in the ninety-seventh annual session tonight in Rocky Mount. A number of Presbyterians from this city and vicinity will leave this morning for Rocky Mount to attend the sessions which will continue through Saturday. It is expected that fully two hundred representatives of the Presbyterian churches in the state will be in attendance. One elder and the minister is expected from each church.

Revs. Melton Clark, J. W. Goodman and C. E. Hodgson and Messrs. A. M. Seales, W. D. Denny and J. R. Brown will go from Greensboro. Rev. R. M. Williams is unable to leave the city at this time on account of other engagements.

Dr. J. M. Wells, of Wilmington, is moderator of the Synod and as such will preach the opening sermon tonight. The stated clerk is Dr. D. I. Craig, of Reidsville.

A LARGE CONTRACT.

When Howard Gardner, the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, he thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for these diseases that he would have a good many packages returned.

Howard Gardner wants every person in Greensboro who has constipation, dyspepsia, headaches, or liver trouble to come to his store or send him 25 cents by mail and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

LAST WEEK FOR REGISTRATION

There seems to be an idea prevalent among a good many people that when they move from one precinct to another they may get a transfer certificate of some kind from the Registrar directing the Registrar in the other precinct to register them. But such is not the case. There is no such thing as a transfer certificate. In case of any removal of four months or more, the party must register anew, by taking the oath as to residence, etc. If the party has a certificate of "permanent registration" signed by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the County in which he registered two or more years ago, that will entitle him to register so far as the educational qualification is concerned, but in any event he must take the oath as to length of residence. It is the duty of every patriotic voter to see that his name is properly on the books.

The books close next Saturday at sunset.

CHARGED WITH TENDERING WORTHLESS CHECK TO HOTEL

Young Traveling Man, However, Claims That He Thought the Check Was Good and Tended It In Good Faith.

Saturday's Richmond Evening Journal has an article about the arrest of a young Greensboro man, R. G. Norman. The Journal says:

"R. G. Norman, president and sales manager of the Co-operative Buggy and Harness Company, of Greensboro, N. C., was charged in the Police Court this morning with defrauding the Gilbert Hotel out of a board bill amounting to $34.50.

"Norman, it is charged, tendered a worthless check for that amount, which was drawn on the firm of which he is president, and which was subsequently returned marked 'no funds.'

"In order that the case might be fully investigated, Magistrate Wilbur Griggs, who is presiding in the absence of Police Justice Crutchfield, continued the hearing until November 3d. Bail in the sum of $300 was required of Norman.

"Norman registered at the Gilbert Hotel early in October and remained for two weeks or more. He settled part of his bill in cash, offering a check drawn on his firm and signed by himself as president, for the balance. The check was accepted in good faith and, according to the accused, offered in like faith. Shortly after making his adieu, however, the paper was returned marked 'no funds.'

"Norman asserts that his intentions were honorable and that he is the victim of circumstances.

Fined For Trespass.

In Municipal court yesterday morning Lewis Fuller was given a hearing on the charge of forcible trespass. He was fined $5 and costs.

Shall We Rejoice

Gladness comes with a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed and assisted by the pleasant laxative remedy Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

FOUR PER CENT. PAID ON SAVINGS DEPOSITS.—FOUR PER CENT.

THE DIFFERENCE

between a dollar saved and a dollar spent is just two dollars. Did it ever occur to you that way? It's worth thinking about.

Another difference is the feeling you have afterward. The dollar saved gives you a feeling of real pleasure—it may call for a little sacrifice for the time being, but afterward you feel better for having denied yourself and the dollar is still yours. That is the nice thing about having money in the bank—you have saved it—it is still yours—you can have it when you wish.

We make it a part of our business to urge you to have a bank account at this bank, for it not only helps our business but yours more so.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS.

Real Danger is From Germs and Not From Drafts.

Medical and Surgical Journal.
The common cold runs a more or less definite course and generally extends from one portion of the mucous membrane to another. The symptoms depend on the region involved and the severity of the attack, and do not suddenly arise and disappear, as with hay fever. It seems to spread between people in close contact, and occurs less frequently in summer than in winter. It is a little more common in children than in adults. No specific organism has been found, but this is also true of some other diseases which we know to be contagious. The common belief is that it is due to chilling of the skin, and hence often the opportunity for contagion is overlooked.

There is much evidence to show that colds are directly contagious. Epidemics of the disease occur; families of children often remain all summer without colds and have them on return to school; or if one member gets a cold in the summer the other members of the family are likely to have it. All cases in a family do not begin at once, as would be the case if due to the weather, but they come in succession. When there is no chance for contagion, as in Arctic explorations, there are no colds. But colds make their appearance on arrival in port in a warmer region. In Greenland there are no colds, except when they are brought by ship.

Colds have an incubation period of from two to four days and are usually transmitted by sneezing, coughing, embracing, speaking at close range or by means of towels, etc. They occur more frequently in children because of the closer contact. Colds may be more effectively prevented by the disease than by attention to clothing, weather and the like. When we come to realize the difference between hay fever, which is of vasomotor origin, and the common cold due to germ action, the community will gain. The objection to drafts and wet feet, which cause the community to shut itself up in tight rooms, is due to the fear of catching cold by exposure, when in fact it is caught by exposure to close contact with one another.

A Pretty Poor Portrait.

A Chinaman of very high rank had his portrait painted, and when it was finished the painter requested him to inquire of the passersby what they thought of it. The other agreed and asked the first corner:
"Do you think this portrait like?"
"The hat is extremely like," replied the critic.

The subject of the portrait asked a similar question of a second stranger, who answered that the clothes seemed to be exactly reproduced. He was about to interrogate a third when the painter stopped him and said impatiently:

"The resemblance of the hat and clothes is of no importance. Ask this gentleman what he thinks of the face."
On being asked this question the stranger hesitated a very long time, but at last he replied:
"The beard and hair are first rate."

SHOE MAKING FACTS

No. 2

CRADDOCK Vamps, Stays, Tops

We've told the story of Craddock soles and counters and heels—how honestly they are made of the very best leather that money can buy. You can understand now why some shoes break down after a few weeks wear and one or two unfortunate wettings, and why Craddock Shoes are called Long Wear Shoes.

Craddock vamps and tops and linings have their share of the bumps and strains to stand and that they do stand them is because of our care in the selection of the skins and the careful cutting of each shoe part from the best part of the hide adapted to its use.

Craddock Vamps (7) are cut from the "heart" of the hide, the toughest part of the whole skin. The tops (8) are cut from the next toughest parts—the soft, spongy flank leather is never used.

The back stays of a shoe (9) are small parts but very important. They take an enormous amount of strain. Craddock stays are selected from small pieces of the very choicest part of the skin.

You wouldn't think that any shoemaker would scrimp on linings—but they do. It only takes a little piece—it ought to be of the best, but if a fraction of a cent is saved on every pair it will amount to hundreds of dollars in a year. Craddock linings are of the strongest duck—even away down inside where you can't see. There is no seam in the toe to raise the mischief with your feet.

Go to the Craddock dealer in your town and talk shop with him. When you once know the Craddock shoe—you will have found your money's worth of wear—style—comfort.

SAYS SHE HEARD LOST SON'S DEATH CRIES

Mrs. Clarkin Declares Jimmy, Eight, Who Vanished, Is Drowned in Swan Lake.

Eight-year-old James Clarkin, of No. 26 Amsterdam avenue, "hooked" a ride on a delivery wagon and disappeared Monday morning about 11:30 o'clock. The police have sent out a general alarm and have visited all the hospitals.

His mother believes that he has been drowned in the Swan Lake, near the Fifty-ninth street entrance of Central Park.

"All Monday night, when the house was still and everybody was asleep, I heard him calling to me," she said, weeping to a World reporter yesterday afternoon. "He called 'Marm! marm! marm! come and get me.' It was not a real voice calling; it was a voice from the grave. My little boy is drowned in the lake he loved so well, where he used to go with his little sister to watch the swans."

"Jimmy has been suffering from epileptic fits for about four years, and for that reason maybe I loved him more than I did the others. He was my constant care. I rarely allowed him to leave my side."

"He has been away in the country all summer and only came home a month ago."

"Since he has been home he has been crazy about the Swan Lake, in Central Park, and I frequently allowed him to go there with one of his sisters. Monday morning about 11 o'clock I went downstairs just in time to see him disappearing up the street on the tail of a delivery wagon belonging to one of the stores across the street. I saw the driver when he came back and he said that he had stopped at Sixty-third street to let Jimmy off, as he said he wanted to go and see his aunt. He never went to his aunt's house."

IMPALED BY AN ARROW.

Pinned Through the Neck to a Tree. Yet He Survived.

It was in the summer of 1850 that George Wainwright and Ben Spencer, each in charge of a train of freight wagons, were headed for the Missouri river to bring supplies back to Colorado points. The Indians were very troublesome in those days, and these two outfits always camped together for protection. One night they had arranged the camp with the wagons forming a circle, and everybody but the guards was to be inside. Wainwright preferred to sleep in a clump of cottonwoods about a quarter of a mile off, and there he fixed himself with his negro servant as a bodyguard. Neither the camp nor Wainwright was disturbed during the night, but early the next morning while Wainwright was sitting on the ground with his back to a tree drinking his tin of coffee an arrow from an unseen foe entered his neck at the right of the jugular vein and was driven with such force as to impale the victim to the tree. The negro, believing his master was killed, ran to Spencer's camp and gave the alarm.

Spencer and some of his men rushed over to Wainwright. Instead of being dead Wainwright was not even seriously injured. Spencer cut the arrow off close to the point of entrance and then gently drew Wainwright's head forward until he was released. The victim suffered but little inconvenience from the wound, and by the time the trip was completed it was entirely healed.—Los Angeles Times.

"It Beats All"

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Sold by Howard Gardner.

The Cause of it.

Othello was telling Desdemona of the dangers he had undergone.

"But did you ever photograph a charging rhinoceros?" she asked.

It was then that he discovered she had found other heroes in the illustrated magazines, and the green-eyed monster began to take possession of him.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

There may be plenty of room at the top, but not for the small potato.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

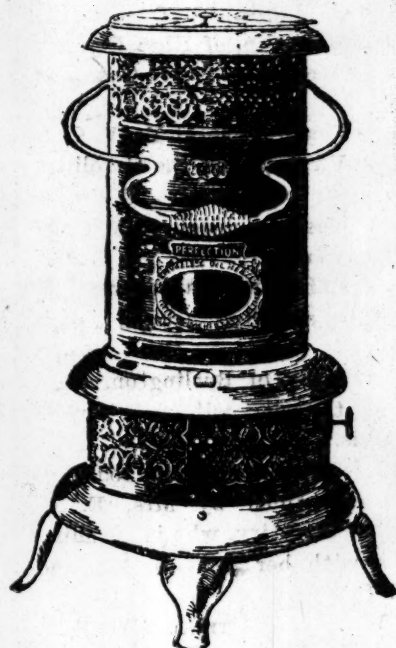

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations. It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

For Business Use

There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

What is an Element?

In his little book called "The Elements" Sir William A. Tilden defines an element as "a substance from which by the operation of ordinary chemical processes only one kind of matter can be obtained." This is something quite different from the four elements of Aristotle—fire, water, earth and air—or the salt, sulphur and mercury of the alchemists. Even in modern times the conception of what an element really is has changed somewhat. Sir William adds: "Until quite recently the elements of the inorganic world were supposed to be fixed, immutable with the lapse of ages or under the mighty forces concerned in the making of worlds. But within a few years we have learned that the atoms at least are continually crumbling away. It is impossible to say whether all may not be suffering a slow waste which in the long run may lead back to the primal chaos."

When the Plague Raged.

Sir Walter Besant in one of his books says of the author of "Robinson Crusoe" and "Journal of the Plague": "De Foe was born in the year 1681. His father lived in Cripplegate, where, as we know, he had a shop. The child, therefore, was four years of age in the plague year. A child of four observes a great deal and may remember a great deal. De Foe says: 'When any one bought a joint of meat he would not take it out of the butcher's hand, but took it off the hooks himself. On the other hand, the butcher would not touch the money, but put it into a pot full of vinegar which he kept for the purpose.' This must surely have been seen by the child and remembered. It happened in his father's shop before his eyes."

A German Legend.

The Germans have a legend of Frederick Barbarossa that he is not dead, but in an enchanted sleep, sitting with his knights at a marble table in the cavern of Kyffhausen, in the Harz mountains. His long red beard has grown during this long enchantment and, covering the table, descends to the floor, and he sits thus waiting the moment that will set him free. There he has been kept for long centuries. There he must stay for ages.

The Soft Answer.

He—Ugh, I'm going out of this, and you won't see me again until the day of judgment.

She (sweetly, getting the last word, as usual)—All right, dear, and if you aren't feeling in a better temper please let it be well on in the afternoon.—London Saturday Review.

Sympathetic Admiration.

Dinks—So you enjoyed the circus? Winks—Yes; I was particularly interested in the juggler. I'll bet that man could get any number of bundles from a street car to the train without dropping one of them.—St. Louis Times.

His Objection.

Scottish Bachelor—Will ye have some tea? Visitor—Oh, please don't trouble! Bachelor—It's no the trouble; it's juist the expense.—Punch.

The ladies are especially invited to hear Whitehead Klutz.
